Manor Road Primary School

Homework Policy

General Statement

At Manor Road, staff recognise that children who have spent a busy, structured day at school need time to relax and unwind at the end of the afternoon. We are also mindful of the need to encourage children to pursue out-of-school activities such as dancing, sports, music etc.

However, we recognise the benefits of homework if this is introduced gradually over the primary years so that children develop as independent learners.

The Purpose of Homework

Homework should:

- ensure that children make the best possible progress and grow as confident, independent learners;
- help parents/carers to keep in touch with their children's learning and promote an effective partnership between home and school;
- promote a positive attitude to learning if parents/carers show an interest and enjoy working with their children;
- exploit resources for learning, of all kinds, at home;
- give children the opportunity to practise and reinforce skills which have been taught at school;
- extend learning by giving opportunities to apply skills taught in school;
- prepare children for the demands and expectations of future phases of education

The Aims of the Policy

Through this policy we aim to:

- ensure consistency of approach throughout the school
- ensure progression towards independence and individual responsibility
- ensure the needs of individual children are taken into account
- ensure that children and parents/carers know what to expect
- extend and support the learning experience through reinforcement and revision
- provide opportunities for parents/carers to enjoy learning together

Role of Children

Children are expected to:

- listen carefully to the instructions given

- be responsible for taking their books and homework activities home and returning them on time
- take care and show respect for books and equipment borrowed from school
- complete work at home to the best of their ability
- bring their reading book and reading record to school every day

Role of Parents

We recognise that parents/carers have a key role on supporting children's homework. The nature of this role will change as children get older but an interested adult is always important. Parents can support our policy by:

- providing a suitable place for homework activities
- provide basic resources eg pens, pencils, crayons, rulers, dictionaries, calculators
- making it clear that they value homework and ensuring the books and equipment borrowed from school are treated with care
- encouraging and praising children for their efforts
- being actively involved in homework activities as appropriate
- completing the reading record/homework record as appropriate
- not using homework as a threat or punishment
- contacting the teacher if there are any concerns about homework

Role of Teachers

The teacher (usually the class teacher) will:

- set homework which is appropriate to the age and ability of each child
- provide additional homework for children working on intervention strategies
- give clear explanation of work to be completed at home
- give a date for work to be returned
- provide suitable guidance to parents where necessary
- provide feedback to children – this may be through marking and/or discussion
- give recognition and praise to children for their efforts
- alert parents to any problems with homework

The Type of Homework

Learning at home does not just mean completing worksheets and formal written exercises carried out without help from an adult. All children need to participate in purposeful, joint activities and tasks with an interested parent/carer. Talking together, playing games, reading together, learning facts, browsing the internet or visiting the library to find out about current topics are important. Everyday activities in the home can also support learning eg weighing food for dinner, carrying out money transactions when shopping etc. can reinforce mathematical skills.

It is particularly important that parents spend time speaking and listening to their children and provide a good role model. This promotes effective communication so that children interact appropriately by listening with concentration, choose language appropriate to the situation and use good manners.

As children get older, learning at home will gradually become more varied and demanding. Although the emphasis will still be on parents and children working together, there should be increasing opportunities for children to develop the skills of independent learning.

Much homework will be based on basic literacy and numeracy skills, often involving rote learning eg number facts, tables, spellings etc and regular reading sessions.

Parents will be given details of daily and weekly homework schedules.

Completion of Homework

Children who do not return completed homework by the given deadline without a suitable reason will be asked to spend a lunchtime or playtime completing the activity.

Time Allocation

The exact time spent on homework is much less important than the quality and purpose of tasks. Individual ability must also be taken into account. In general, the amount of time to be spent on homework will increase as the child moves through school, however, as a school we do set out the following as an expectation.

Year Group	Practice Regularly	Occasional Homework
Foundation to Year 4	Reading: at least 3 times per week and discussing stories / information. Reading records are to be signed when read. Numbots/ TTRS: 20minutes per week. Spelling: Common Exception Words/ High Frequency Words will be sent home per year group. ## SEND

Setting the right type and amount of homework for children with SEND will need careful consideration by teachers, SENDCo and parents. The purposes of homework outlined in this policy apply equally to all children, including those with SEND. Whilst children with SEND may benefit from special tasks appropriate to their needs, it is important that they should do as much in common with others as possible. Homework for children with SEND should:

- have a clear focus and time guidelines;
- give plenty of opportunity for children to succeed;
- help develop social as well as other skills where necessary;
- be manageable for teachers.

Reviewing the Policy

The policy will be reviewed as required by staff taking account of the views of parents received through discussions at parents' evening, through parental questionnaires and feedback received incidentally throughout the year. The results of any review will be presented to governors as part of the Headteacher's Report. Any significant changes to the policy will be presented to governors and parents will be consulted.
